The resident may be subject to disciplinary action for guests' non-compliance with these regulations. Non-student guests may be subject to civil and criminal action for violation of these regulations.

Intoxication is not an acceptable or appropriate condition and may be cause for disciplinary action. Intoxication is defined as either (1) not having the normal use of mental or physical facilities due to the introduction of alcohol or other drugs into the body; or (2) have a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of 0.08 or more.

Bluff, Prairie, and Woodland residents and guests are not permitted to have alcohol, alcohol containers (even if empty), or devices used for rapid consumption of alcohol. This policy is applicable to all residents regardless of age.

Evergreen and Cougar Village residents and their guests must be 21 years of age or older if they choose to possess and /or consume alcohol in their residence. Please see more stipulations of this policy in the Living Guide.

Kegs: Possession of a keg on University property will lead to termination of residency. Containers holding more than one gallon of alcoholic beverages or devices promoting the rapid consumption of alcohol (i.e. - funnels, bongs, etc.) are prohibited on University property and will be confiscated.

Substances and Drug Use Policy

The Student Conduct Code of SIUE defines social misconduct to include violations of University policies and regulations, local ordinances, and state and federal laws, which include, without limitation, the manufacture, sale or distribution, and/or the unauthorized possession or use of controlled substances. # Class Enrollment

Course Load Requirements

International students in F-1 and J-1 status must register for and complete a full course load each spring and fall semester. For continuing students (enrolled in spring semester) summer full-time enrollment is 3 credit hours and is optional, unless it is your last semester. Final semester course(s) cannot be taken all online.

Students who drop below a full course-load without immigration advisor approval will be reported to SEVIS. If this occurs, your SEVIS record will be terminated, and you will lose your F-1 or J-1 status, including employment eligibility and benefits. For immigration purposes, full-time enrollment (during fall and spring semester) is defined as:

- Undergraduate students: 12 credit hours (4 courses)
- Graduate students: 9 credit hours (3 courses)
- Graduate students with a graduate assistantship (GA, RA, TA): 6 credit hours (2 courses)

All students are still required to maintain a full course of study unless a Reduced Course Load has been authorized by their DSO.

What's a Reduced Course Load?

A Reduced Course Load is a request made by international students to drop classes or enroll less than full-time in their academic program.

International students must obtain approval from their international advisor (DSO) before dropping any classes or enrolling less than the required full-time course load. To request approval to drop classes, you must submit a Reduced Course Load Form. Graduate students who hold an assistantship must also complete the Graduate School Underload Approval Form.

When can I submit a Reduced Course Load form for approval?

A reduced course load can only be approved in the following circumstances:

1. Academic difficulty reasons: (the first semester only, and can only be used once during the length of your program)
  - Initial Difficulty with English Language
  - Initial Difficulty with Reading Requirements
  - Unfamiliarity with American Teaching Methods
  - Improper Course Level Placement
2. Medical Reduced Course Load
3. During the final semester of your degree program.

For more information about Course load requirements, visit the Enrollment Requirements page on our website.

Reducing Your Courseload

To request approval to drop classes, submit a Reduced Course Load Form. If you have an assistantship, you must also complete the Graduate School Underload/Overload Approval Form.

- Undergraduate students must be enrolled in a minimum of 6 credit hours.
- Graduates must be enrolled in a minimum of 5 credit hours, to be eligible for student worker positions.

If you drop below a full course load or enroll less than full-time without your international advisor's approval, you will be reported to SEVIS. Should this occur, your SEVIS record will be terminated, and you will lose your lawful F-1 or J-1 status, including employment eligibility and benefits.

In order to maintain your immigration status, you cannot be enrolled only in UNIV 500, as this enrollment is only used for administrative purposes and is not given for credit.

A reduced course load can only be approved in the following circumstances:

- 1. For academic difficulty reasons (the first semester only, and can only be used once during the length of your program)
  - a. Initial difficulty with English Language
  - b. Initial difficulty with reading requirements
  - c. Unfamiliarity with American teaching methods
  - d. Improper course level placement
- 2. A Medical Reduced Course Load permits F-1 and J-1 students to reduce their course load below full-time (or, if necessary, not enroll in any courses) due to a student's temporary illness or medical condition. A maximum of 12 months of Medical Reduced Course Load is possible per degree level. Medical Reduced Course Loads are issued on a semester basis. If more than one semester of a Reduced Course Load due to a medical condition is needed, the student must submit a new doctor's letter for the additional semester(s).
  - a. The student must provide medical documentation stating he/she is unable to maintain a full course of study from 1 of the following U.S. licensed medical practitioners:
    - i. Medical Doctor (M.D)
    - ii. Doctor of Osteopathy (D.O.); or
    - iii. Clinical Psychology (C.P.)
- 3. During the final semester of your degree program (one semester only). You are eligible for a reduced course load authorization if you expect to complete less than a full course load for remaining coursework for degree completion in your final semester.

F-1 students: If you have finished all required coursework and are only completing thesis/dissertation, you must apply for OPT. Contact your international advisor for more information.

Note: There is a physical presence requirement during your last semester; you cannot be enrolled in only online credits. For more information see Enrollment Requirements.

Do not drop courses until approved by your international advisor. In all cases mentioned here, you are required to meet with an advisor in our office before you stop attending or withdraw from classes.

International Hospitality Program

What is the International Hospitality Program (IHP)?

The IHP is a group of community and campus families who wish to enrich the lives of their families and the international students at SIUE. The IHP seeks to promote mutually rewarding relationships between American families and international students at SIUE. International students do not live with their host families.

The IHP assigns each student a host family. The host family serves as a “family away from home.” Host families often invite the student to participate in social or family gatherings. The IHP sponsors discussion groups and the International Women's Organization, which has invited many of our students to share their experiences in a public setting.

What is a host family?

Host families are caring friends who are interested in you. You can request a host family during international student orientation in your first week at SIUE. We invite you to watch this video featuring IHP's support of students over the years.

What does a host family do?

Your host family will contact you as soon as possible. They will invite you to their home so that you will feel you have a local family. They may offer advice on banking, shopping, laundries, automobile responsibilities, housing, and health concerns.

They would like you to be a friend. Inform them of your food preferences or restrictions. Be prompt to meetings, especially to a meal. Be honest when you accept or decline invitations. Tell them of changes in your phone number and address.

What does a host family not help with?

Your host family should not help with financial or immigration problems and academic advice. These issues should be brought to the Office of International Affairs. Insurance and liability laws make borrowing or lending automobiles inadvisable.

Where do I find out about IHP activities?

You will receive notices via e-mail of all IHP events. SIUE International Student Services also publicizes IHP activities. All international students are invited to IHP events.

Inviting Dependents

F-2/J-2 dependents are defined as a spouse or an unmarried minor child (below 21 years of age) of an F-1/J-1 student.

If you request to add a dependent after you arrive in the U.S., you must obtain a new form I-20 (F-1 students) or DS-2019 (J-1 students). After obtaining a new I-20 or DS-2019, your spouse and/or children can then apply for an F-2/J-2 visa at the U.S. embassy or consulate in their home country.

Required Documentation

- Request to Add F-2 or J-2 Dependents
- Copy of photo passport page for each dependent
- Evidence of financial support for one year (dated within the last 6 months), including your new dependents. Acceptable forms of financial documentation include:
  - Bank statements or bank letters in your name
  - Financial Affidavit (completed and signed by you and your sponsor)
  - Scholarship from government/organization/employer
  - SIUE scholarships
- You should review the Tuition and Fees to determine how much funding you need as a student and the estimated additional amounts you need to show per dependent.

F-2 Visa Guidelines

- All family members must be covered by medical insurance while they are in the United States
- A student with an F-2 visa may enroll in courses on a part-time basis and even pursue a degree program but cannot enroll full-time while on the F-2 visa
- F-2 visa holders are not eligible to work in the U.S.
- If a dependent changes their status successfully to F-1 or another status, the F-1 or J-1 principle visa holder must have their name and dependent expenses removed from the Form I-20 or DS-2019

Ending your Program

Before your Program Ends

Program Extensions

An extension of your I-20 should be completed 30 days before the end date listed on the document. If your I-20 expires while you are still a student, you will violate your immigration status.

For an extension, regulations require that the delays are caused by compelling academic or medical reasons, such as changes of major or research topics, unexpected research problems, or documented illnesses. An extension cannot be done for sake of employment or to enroll in additional courses not required for your program.

Required documents for extension requests can be found on the ISSS website.

After your Program Ends

Grace Period

There is a 60-day window for F-1 students and a 30-day window for J-1 students following the program called the “grace period.” During the grace period, F-1 students can:

- Prepare to leave the country
- Travel within the U.S. (Do not travel outside of the U.S. as students cannot re-enter the U.S. during their grace period.)
- Apply for OPT work authorization (F-1 students only)
- Transfer to a new SEVP-approved institution
- Change visa status, if eligible

SEVIS Transfers

As a student with F-1 or J-1 status, your active immigration record can only be maintained by one institution in SEVIS. If you decide to transfer to another institution, your SEVIS record must be transferred. Transfer means changing universities or schools at the beginning, middle, or end of a degree program or between degrees.

A list of required documents and the process for requesting a SEVIS transfer can be found on the ISSS website.

SIUE Systems

During your time at SIUE, you will interact with several university websites and systems. This guide will help you understand the most common ones and their uses.

Blackboard is a learning management system used by SIUE that allows students and instructors to interact online. It hosts course materials, assignments, quizzes, and discussions. You can access Blackboard through the SIUE website using your university username and password.

CougarNet

CougarNet is a self-service platform that allows students to access information using their e-ID and password. You can access different student services such as:

- Registering for classes
- Viewing your class schedule
- Accessing your unofficial transcripts
- Ordering official transcripts
- Viewing your grades

You will also be able to find HR information available through CougarNet such as your personal information. You can also update your address, phone number, email address, and emergency contacts. Students can also view their employment information related to pay information and tax forms.

Starfish

Starfish facilitates communication among academic advisors, instructors, students, and others at SIUE who are here to support your learning.

Starfish provides you with a central location to connect you to the people and services that can help you engage with your education. To access Starfish, log in to Blackboard and click the Starfish tab in the upper-right corner of your browser.
